

Koji Omata

Managing Director, Chief Technical Officer
J-Power Latrobe Valley

Koji Omata joined J-Power Latrobe Valley Pty Ltd (JPLV) in 2019 as a managing director, chief technical officer for the hydrogen production from Victorian brown coal project at Loy Yang. Before joining JPLV, he worked for J-Power for more than 30 years in research & development activities. Especially, he has extensive experience of coal gasification and carbon capture technologies.

Seiji Hongo

Director, Chief Operating Officer
J-Power Latrobe Valley

Seiji Hongo joined J-Power Latrobe Valley Pty Ltd (JPLV) in 2018 as a director, chief operating officer for the management of the hydrogen production and refining project at Loy Yang. Before joining JPLV, he worked for J-Power for more than 30 years in business development of wind power projects in European countries including Poland and the U.K., and hydropower projects in many Asian countries. He also has extensive experience of carbon capture and sequestration projects in Japan and abroad. He graduated from the University of Tokyo in 1985 with a master of science in structural geology.