

Gabrielle Henry

Director, Industry Engagement and Development,
Energy | Department of Environment, Land, Water and Planning

Gabrielle has over 20 years' experience across technical, commercial, financial, IT and regulatory aspects of sustainable energy in the public and private sector both locally and internationally.

In her current role, she oversees a team that works with sector participants to attract and establish new energy businesses into Victoria, develop new energy sector capabilities, support emerging energy technologies from concept to project and help existing industries manage the transition to a clean energy future.

The Victorian Hydrogen Investment Program, which aims to develop a green hydrogen industry in Victoria, is under her remit and she and her team also represent the Victorian Government in a number of workstreams in the development of the National Hydrogen Strategy.
